

Innovator Capital Joins Forces With the Nobel Sustainability Trust to Present CleanEquity Monaco 2012

London, 1st February 2012. Innovator Capital announced today that it will co-host CleanEquity Monaco 2012, the established emerging cleantech event on 28th- 30th March, with the Nobel Sustainability Trust and the Principality of Monaco.

The Nobel Sustainability Trust is a Nobel family initiative taken by visionaries and global socially responsible Nobel family members, to encourage the research, development, commercialisation and implementation of products and procedures within the field of renewable and sustainable energy.

Mungo Park, Chairman of Innovator Capital, commented: "We welcome the Nobel Sustainability Trust involvement with the search for tomorrow's clean technologies and consider it an honour and a privilege to be working with Gustaf Nobel and the other members of this extraordinarily accomplished family."

His Serene Highness, Prince Albert II of Monaco said that He was "wholeheartedly delighted with the addition of the Nobel Sustainability Trust name to CleanEquity Monaco" and that He was "looking forward to a close working relationship."

Gustaf Nobel, Chairman of the Nobel Sustainability Trust, said: "It is crucial to provide cleantech innovation with optimal environments in terms of financing, expertise and a network to ensure market reach. CleanEquity Monaco has proven to be a successful conference showcasing outstanding early stage sustainable technologies. It is an essential part of our vision that we assist, in any way possible, those that have solutions with global sustainability relevance."

Innovator Capital is also pleased to announce the collaboration of: Qualcomm Halo, the world leading wireless electric charging division of Qualcomm, Inc.; and Clark Langdon Partners the high-end executive search firm.

CleanEquity Monaco 2012 also benefits from its collaboration with PR Newswire (New York), Covington & Burling LLP (Washington DC), Allen & Caron (New York) & the Société des Bains de Mer (Monaco).
