London, UK, (DATE). CleanEquity Monaco 2012, March 29th-30th, registration is now open.

Now in its 5th year CleanEquity is looking to build upon its status of world leading emerging cleantech forum. At the conference up to 40 early stage cleantech companies will present their credentials to specialist financial & strategic investors, established industry players, key policy makers, government officials, end users and national, international & trade media.

Delegate invitations are reserved for senior-level representatives. This tried and tested format assures effective use of decision-maker time in ideal surroundings while providing cleantech CEOs with access to optimal commercial and strategic acceleration for their companies.
