

CleanEquity Monaco 2013 – Registration Now Open!

London, UK, (DATE). CleanEquity® Monaco 2013, March 7th- 8th, registration is now open.

Now in its 6th year, CleanEquity is looking to build upon its reputation as the world's leading emerging cleantech forum. CleanEquity showcases up to 35 carefully selected emerging cleantech companies from around the world, which present to delegates comprising specialist financial and strategic investors, established industry representatives, key policy makers, government officials, end users and national, international & trade media.

Companies invited to present at CleanEquity have passed a rigorous selection process including assessment on the following criteria: technology disruptiveness, world relevance, management capability and intellectual property protection. The selection process ensures delegates will meet with companies, of the highest quality, developing state of the art technologies right across the cleantech spectrum.

Delegate invitations for financial and strategic investors are reserved for senior-level representatives. This delegate selectivity ensures cleantech CEOs will meet with individuals with the ability to optimise commercial and strategic acceleration for their companies. Emphasis is placed on facilitating direct networking opportunities between delegates and cleantech companies before and during the event.

Each of the presenting companies will be eligible for the prestigious CleanEquity Monaco Award, chosen by a panel of experts with oversight and presentation by His Serene Highness Prince Albert II of Monaco. Previous winners have gone on to experience outstanding success in fundraising, strategic M&A, licensing, joint ventures and business development.

CleanEquity is hosted by the specialist cleantech investment bank Innovator Capital and continues to enjoy the support of The Prince Albert II of Monaco Foundation and the Monte-Carlo SBM. The Principality of Monaco acts as the regional host for CleanEquity.

CleanEquity is also pleased to continue its collaboration with lead sponsors Covington & Burling, the distinguished multinational law firm with a leading cleantech practice and with PR Newswire the global public relations, media and communications experts.
