ICL is happy to be partnering again with specialist executive search firm, Hobbs & Towne:

Steve Kyryk, Senior Partner said:

"Our firm has been working with sustainability and impact investors and their portfolio companies for over 20 years providing talent solutions and advisory services to the global innovation community. Utilising our extensive network of executives and thought leaders, HTI is delivering results for a worldwide assortment of exceptional VC, PE, family office, and corporate venture-backed organisations. We are excited to be continuing our sponsorship of CleanEquity and supporting the investors and entrepreneurs in their efforts to develop and commercialize sustainable and impactful businesses."

Cranfield University is returning, for a fifth year. ICL is grateful for the continued support and Professor Tom Stephenson FREng, Pro-Vice-Chancellor - Research & Innovation at Cranfield, commented:

“Cranfield is delighted to once again be part of CleanEquity Monaco 2019. It provides unrivalled opportunities for selected next-generation technology companies to present their products and network with financial investors and industry representatives.

“The University is committed to supporting innovation to help small businesses with high-growth potential realise their ambitions. We have recently opened the Eagle Lab at the Cranfield campus, in conjunction with Barclays, which provides an intensive support package for aerospace and aviation entrepreneurs.”
